

Departments

Department of English and Communications

The Department of English and Communications offers an MFA in Writing that is designed to prepare students to develop knowledge of the conventions of specific writing genres, to understand the creative process, and to assess market trends in specific areas of professional writing.

Graduate Program

Master of Fine Arts \(in Writing\)