Computer Labs, Wireless Network and Computer Usage Expectations

Information technology is an integral part of the academic program at Albertus Magnus College. Access to the Internet is available in each of the classrooms, which also have document and computer projection capabilities, audio/visual presentation systems, and in many cases, interactive whiteboards. In addition, the campus (including dormitories) supports a wireless network, so students can access the web or network software virtually anywhere on campus without the need for a physical connection (wireless network adapter hardware is required for access).

The library catalog is electronic and many of the library resources are available only through computer access. Students may access library resources off campus by using the universal student identification card, the Falcon Card, which is issued to every new student. In addition, most courses use eLearning, an online Course Management System to support instructional delivery. Therefore, all students entering Albertus Magnus College are strongly encouraged to have their own laptop or personal computer. Computers are available in the computer labs in Aquinas Hall and at stations throughout the Library.
