

The College

The Campus

Albertus Magnus College is located in one of the distinguished residential neighborhoods of urban New Haven. The 50-acre tree-lined campus is located in the Prospect Hill neighborhood – easily accessible to Downtown New Haven thanks to our free shuttle service – with New York City and Boston just a short ride away via train or bus.

The garden-like grounds are also home to many of this area's historic 19th century mansions – several of which are owned by the College and used as residence halls and administrative offices.

Our close-knit campus community provides support, safety and security as well as plenty of facilities to explore and learn. Those facilities include the newly renovated Hubert Campus Center – the living room of the College that also houses the Behan Community Room, the Pub, and the campus store.

Other facility features are:

- The Tagliatela Academic Center with its state-of-the-art science labs and communications studio;
- Aquinas Hall academic building with Bree Common;
- Walsh Hall, home of our College Chapel;
- Weldon Hall – one of the original campus buildings now renovated for programs in the Education department
- Rosary Hall – our grand focal point and library
- Cosgrove, Marcus, Messer Athletic Center – our NCAA Division III home to swimming and diving and basketball as well as the campus racquetball courts, weight and cardio rooms.
- Outdoor sporting and recreational facilities for soccer, tennis, and softball as well as a track for running and informal activities.